One Purrfect Summer-Robyn Neeley 2021-03-25 All's fair in love and coffee wars. Madison Porter loves Honey Springs, but her days are one big rinse-wash-repeat routine of working for the mayor's office and caring for the town's matchmaking cat, Belle. She once bid on the town's ice cream shop with hopes of running it herself, but the sweet deal seemingly wasn't meant to be. Patrick Manning moves to the tiny town of Honey Springs to start over. After outbidding his competition for a building space, he now owns The Bean & Brew—and refuses to name his coffee shop with a bee-inspired moniker as per town tradition. Madison soon uncovers paperwork proving she actually won the bid and is the rightful owner of the shop, but no way will Patrick forfeit his claim and rebuild his life again when he's worked so hard. So when the town magistrate suggests a competition to see which business should prevail, they're both all in. The winner earns the space, but soon their hearts are at stake.

A Theory of Everything Else-Laura Pedersen 2020-09-01 That elusive Holy Grail of modern physics, A Theory of Everything (ToE), would explain the universe in a single set of equations. Albert Einstein and Stephen Hawking tackled the problem during their lifetimes and the quest continues today in laboratories around the world.

Leaving string theory, galaxy clusters, and supersymmetry to the Quantum Computer and Hadron Collider crowd, Pedersen has taken up the rest—that is, A Theory of Everything Else (ToEE), based on her own groundbreaking experiences as a dog walker, camp counselor, and Bingo caller. Pedersen's essays are a series of colorful helium balloons that entertain as well as affirm and uplift. Why, she ponders in one essay, are thousands perishing as a result of assault weapons, carbon emissions, forest fires, pesticides, and processed foods—and yet how lawn darts were banned in the 1980s after two people died? In A Theory of Everything Else, Pedersen vividly demonstrates how life can appear to grind us down while it's actually polishing us up—and why everyone wants to live a long time but no one wants to grow old.
