LA SIGNORA DE LIMENA-Pierre LEGRAND
2015-03-29 Saga CINQUECENTO : Cette saga débute comme une enquête sur les origines d'un tableau. Mais, ce tableau-là n'a pas seulement une histoire propre, il raconte aussi celle de la belle Laura Bagarotto qui vint à Venise en 1509 dans des circonstances dramatiques. Cette femme d'exception connaîtra un destin hors du commun dans la prodigieuse Venise de la Renaissance. Il en résulte cette fresque nourrie d'une volumineuse documentation historique, littéraire et artistique relatant la vie de personnages ayant existé et que l'on retrouve dans les sources à différents moments contrastés de leur parcours. Collant de près à ce que fut la réalité, la part romanesque s'efforce de faire vivre le monde violent et magnifique dans lequel les personnages vécurent leurs aventures et leurs passions. On participe aux fêtes à l'intérieur des palais, aux Conseils où siège le Doge, on traîne dans les bouges, on part en gondole chez les courtisanes, on voit peindre Titien, on participe aux dîners de l'Arétin, on part en galère vers l'empire de Soliman le Magnifique, à cheval vers la ténébreuse Hongrie, on suit les caravanes de commerce à travers les Balkans et l'armée d'Ibrahim Pacha jusqu'en Perse. Mais on reviendra à Venise, rêver le long des quais, où miroitent les reflets incertains de la lagune. CINQUECENTO - 3 : LA SIGNORA DE LIMENA Dans ce monde bouleversé, comment Laura et Nicolò réagiront-ils au nouveau drame qui secoue leur vie ? Tandis que Nicolò trouve un nouveau domaine où déployer son énergie, Laura travaille à rassembler des partisans autour de leur cause. Mais c'est chose bien difficile au moment où la guerre et la disette donnent une puissance accrue aux marchands de blé, et où se creusent dans Venise de profondes divisions politiques, aggravées par sa position ambiguë face à la montée de l'Empire Ottoman. Laura est sur le point de réussir lorsque le destin s'en mêle. Mais peut-être le destin fut-il à nouveau poussé par la passion. En tout cas, c'est le destin qui place son fils devant un personnage inattendu.

The Undrowned Child-Michelle Lovric
2011-08-09 Teodora has always longed to visit Venice, and at last she has her chance. But strange and sinister things are afoot in the beautiful floating city. Teo is quickly subsumed into a secret world in which salty-tongued mermaids run subversive printing presses, ghosts good and bad patrol the streets, statues speak, rats read, and librarians fluidly turn into cats. And where a book, The Key to the Secret City, leads Teo straight into the heart of the danger that threatens to destroy the city to which she feels she belongs. An ancient proverb seems to unite Teo with a Venetian boy, Renzo, and with the Traitor who has returned from the dark past to wreak revenge. . . . But who is the Undrowned Child destined to save Venice? From the Hardcover edition.

Sons of the Blood-Robyn Young 2016-07-28

'Robyn Young realistically evokes the brutal world of the late fifteenth century, and interweaves a gripping tale with a highly original take on Richard III and the Princes in the Tower. Provocative and grounded upon impressive research, this is historical fiction of a high calibre. More, please!' Alison Weir 1483: A secret war is born... Jack Wynter is trapped in sun-baked Seville, sent there by his father with a locked box he's been told to guard with his life. A vital task, or just a ruse to get an illegitimate son out of the country? But, then, when his father is arrested for treason, Jack finds himself at the heart of a deadly conspiracy. Seeking answers to the mystery he has inherited, Jack returns to England, where his half-brother, Harry, broods bitterly over their father's apparent preference for a bastard son and young Prince Edward is due to become king... unless his uncle, Richard of Gloucester, makes a play for the throne. Jack Wynter is coming home, to a realm of danger, intrigue and war. Somehow, he is connected to a secret that stretches across Europe, and beyond. A secret with the power to kill him - or make him. Sons of the Blood is the first in an epic new series from the Sunday Times bestselling author. Look out for part two, Court of Wolves. Encyclopedia of Renaissance Literature-James Wyatt Cook 2014-05-14 Presents an A-to-Z reference to the writers and literature completed during the Renaissance.

WWW-Milo Manara 1999 Three women try to cover up a murder committed while webcasting. My Name is Bertha-Fran Lewis 2007-11-29 Bronx Times Reporter News: February 21, 2008 LOCAL AUTHOR TEACHES TOLERANCE THROUGH KIDS' BOOK by Jeni Asaba My Name is Bertha is a story of hope for all children living with differences that make them victims of criticism and outcasts among their peers. Bertha is a young girl who feels misunderstood by society. Her heavy stature and awkward, uncoordinated movements made her feel like an outcast among her peers, while her own family deemed her different. The fictional children's book is a compilation of stories based on past encounters and events the author, Fran Lewis, experienced during her own childhood growing up in the Bronx . Lewis hopes to use My Name is Bertha as a mode of encouragement for those children whose weak self image is limiting their happiness and personal growth. "Children today have to know that they can achieve anything they want and no one should try to stop them from reaching their goals and dreams," Lewis said. As a young girl growing up in the south Bronx , Lewis said she always felt excluded, an outsider in her own community. Through My Name is Bertha, Lewis teaches that as long as people recognize and believe in their own personal strengths, there is and always will be light at the end of the tunnel. "Not everyone is born athletic, beautiful, thin or a genius," Lewis said, "but everyone is born good in something, whether it is running track, playing board games or drawing. Who you are is what makes you special." Working as a reading and writing staff developer at P.S. 78, at 1400

Needham Avenue , for 36 years, Lewis said it was a real joy to see young children learn from reading. Now, through her book, she's proud to provide youth with the encouragement she never received. "Children are entitled to make mistakes," Lewis said. "There are erasers on the end of pencils for a reason." In a series of notes from 10-year-old Bertha, she tells her stories of struggle and despair - specific instances of humiliation that created the feelings of rejection she would spend many years fighting to overcome. In the note titled "Bertha Goes Bowling," she shares an embarrassing tale about a family outing at Southern Boulevard Lanes. Not having good physical coordination, Bertha detested all sports activities. But even still she couldn't ignore the daunting persistence of her father's voice urging her to simply try. The book reads, "As I started to wind up, I guess I thought I could throw it harder if I used my punch ball skills to get some momentum on the ball. I bent over and heard a ripping noise. My pants split down the middle because they were too tight and I bent over too far." After her mother did a quick fix tying her sweater around Bertha's waist, the encouragement for one more try continued. It continued, "I walked back up to the edge of the lane and wound up my right arm and threw the ball straight across my body three lanes to the left and got a strike for the man on that lane. He just looked at me in horror while everyone else just started to stare at me or laugh." Bertha returned to her apartment on Southern Boulevard and Tremont Avenue , feeling sad and once again, different. While it took her a while to realize that it was her differences that made her special, Bertha now proudly shares some advice with her young readers. Concluding her stories Bertha said, "Stay strong and think positive about yourself. I am learning to do that and so can you." Lewis is currently contacting literary agents to publish her second book Bertha Speaks Out. My Name is Bertha is available at all major bookstores. The Acharnians-Aristophanes 1887

Dies Irae-Milo Manara 1990

Epiphany-Michael Coren 2016-04-26 From the posterboy of Catholic conservatism, a major change of heart and soul on one of the Church's most controversial and intractable stances. "This past February, a conservative Roman Catholic blog, Contra|Diction, gave me perhaps my best headline ever: 'Michael Coren Complicit in Destruction of Souls Who Practice Homosexuality, Pt 1' (I'm still waiting for part two). It was one of countless posts, tweets, and articles that have condemned me for coming out in favour of same-sex marriage. I've also been fired from columns that I wrote for years, been banned from various Catholic TV and radio stations, had speeches cancelled, and been accused of cheating on my wife. My children have been called gay, and I have been compared to a child molester and a murderer. These are new experiences for me. Until last year, I was considered something of a champion of social conservatism in Canada and was well known among politically active Christians. I hosted a nightly show on Crossroads Television for twelve years, was a syndicated Sun columnist, and wrote briskly selling books with such titles as Why Catholics Are Right. Today, I am working away at a new book, Epiphany: Changing Heart and Mind on Same-Sex Marriage. How and why did it go so terribly wrong?" --Michael Coren

What went "terribly wrong" is that Michael Coren had a profound spiritual and personal change of heart. Epiphany is about how and why that happened; the reaction from both sides of the fence; and how the Christian doctrine, when studied closely and without bias, heartily supports Michael's findings. As a middle-aged, very white, very straight, very Christian man, he was obliged, first reluctantly and then eagerly, to explore the complex dynamic between faith and homosexuality and to work out a new narrative. The crux of that narrative: God is love. Honest, brave, and rigorous in its scholarship, Epiphany is a groundbreaking book on one of society's most pressing issues. From the Hardcover edition.

Secret History; or, The Horrors of St. Domingo and Laura-Leonora Sansay 2007-06-11 Based on Leonora Sansay's eyewitness accounts of the final days of French rule in Saint Domingue (Haiti), Secret History is a vivid account of race warfare and domestic violence. Sansay's writing provocatively draws comparisons between Saint Domingue during the Haitian Revolution and the postrevolutionary United States, while fluidly combining qualities of the eighteenth-century epistolary novel, colonial travel writing, and political analysis. Laura, Sansay's second novel, features as its protagonist a beautiful impoverished orphan who throws herself headlong into a secret marriage with a young medical student. When her husband dies in a duel in an effort to protect his wife's reputation, Laura finds herself once more alone in the world. The republication of these works will contribute to a significant revision of thinking about early American literary history. This Broadview edition offers a rich selection of contextual materials, including selections from periodical literature about Haiti, engravings, letters written by Sansay to her friend Aaron Burr, historical material related to the Burr trial for treason, and excerpts from literature referenced in the novels.

Pantheon of Dermatology-Christoph Löser
2013-02-23 Pantheon of Dermatology provides an exciting introduction to the history of dermatology through the life stories of its most important protagonists. From the reviews: "The Pantheon is more than a history and more than a collection of biographies — it is a monument on the history of dermatology." (Jeff Bernhard, JAAD, December 2013) "This tome is magnificent to view, and it will provide much education and reflection for even the most erudite readers." (Jane M. Grant-Kels, Clin. Dermatol., November-December, 2013) "This truly magisterial ... voyage in words and pictures through dermatology ... is a terrific and exciting adventure." (Robert Rudolph, UC Davis DermChat, May 2013)

Semiotics of Animals in Culture-Gianfranco Marrone 2018-02-28 To place animals within the realm of nature, means inserting them among the articulations of culture and the social. Semiotics has never avoided this chiasmus, choosing to deal from the outset with the problem of the languages of animals following the old admonition of Montaigne: it is not that animals do not talk, it is us who do not understand them. Recent research in the field of the anthropology of nature and sociology of sciences and techniques allow to think about the Zoosemiotic issue in a different way. Instead of transplanting the language structures – gestures, LIS, etc. – for a semiotic study of the forms of the human and social meaning, it seems more apt to look at their discourse, and as such, the actual interactions, communicative and scientific as well as practical and functional, between humans and non-humans. This book aims to investigate precisely this hypothesis, known here as Zoosemiotics 2.0, working on several fronts and levels: · Anthropology · Languages of the image and visual representations, from art history to cinema · Old and new media. From literature to comics, from cartoons to TV documentaries but also advertising, music, Web and social networks. All those cultural products that talk about the role of human and non-human in society implicitly proposing (and in some way imposing) a form of articulation of such a relationship. · Food and feeding rites · Animalist, vegetarian and vegan movements · Philosophy: metaphysics, ethics, aesthetics

Ptolemais in Cyrenaica-Jerzy Żelazowski 2012
Aracoeli-Elsa Morante 2009 An aging man attempts to recover the past and get his life back on track in the process. His deceased mother, Aracoeli, came from a small Spanish town and married an upper class Italian navy ensign. The idyllic years she spends with her only son, Mauel, are shattered when she contracts an incurable disease and becomes a nymphomaniac. Now 43, Manuel is a unattractive, self loathing, recovering drug addict who works in a dead end job at a small publishing house. He decides to travel back to Spain to search for traces of his mother.

Men in the Cities-Chris Goode 2014-08-01 An incendiary piece of experimental storytelling from three-time Fringe First winner Chris Goode. Framed by two violent deaths - the apparently inexplicable suicide of a young gay man, and the murder of Drummer Lee Rigby outside the Royal Artillery Barracks in Woolwich in May 2013 - Men in the Cities is a compelling piece about harm and complicity, and about the forces that shape our relationships. Through fractured snapshots of seemingly disconnected lives, Men in the Cities presents a challenging but radically humane portrait of how we live now.

Recollections of the Lakes and the Lake Poets-Thomas De Quincey 1863

Thom Pain (based on nothing) [Revised TCG Edition]-Will Eno 2019-01-01 "It's sad, isn't it? The dead horse of a life we beat, all the wilder, all the harder the deader it gets. On the other hand, there are some nice shops in the area." Thom Pain has come to a certain point in his life. Maybe you have too. His entire existence is ordinary; but that ordinariness is a revelation and a wonder and a curiosity. To him at least. He'd better hope so. It's all he has (except maybe a dictionary and an old love letter). Comic and disturbing, this provocative monologue charts one man's anguished journey from shattered childhood dreams and trauma to the tenuous, if guarded, optimism of adulthood, told in dangerous intimacy by a voice loaded with wry humor and deceptive charm.

Angelo Beolco (Il Ruzante)-Linda L. Carroll 1990

The Lyrical Novel-Ralph Freeman 2015-12-08

The author, in defining the genre of "lyrical fiction," separates a type of fiction that can be legitimately viewed as "poetry" from other narrative types. The lyrical novelist uses fictional devices to find an aesthetic expression for experience, achieving an effect most frequently seen in dreams, picaresques, and allegories.

Analyzing representative novels by Hermann Hesse, Andre Gide, and Virginia Woolf, Ralph Freedman focuses on the problem of self-consciousness. His findings are directly applicable to much twentieth-century fiction. Originally published in 1963. The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print-on-demand technology to again make available previously out-of-print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press. These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions. The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905.

Words Are Something Else-David Albahari 1996-08-12 Twenty-seven stories by a Serbian writer, many dealing with the destruction of the European Jewish culture in World War II. Others are surrealistic, such as Plastic Combs, whose protagonists are able to talk with inanimate matter.

The Oxford Handbook of Lexicography-Philip Durkin 2015-11-19 This volume provides concise, authoritative accounts of the approaches and methodologies of modern lexicography and of the aims and qualities of its end products. Leading scholars and professional lexicographers, from all over the world and representing all the main traditions and perspectives, assess the state of the art in every aspect of research and practice. The book is divided into four parts, reflecting the main types of lexicography. Part I looks at synchronic dictionaries - those for the general public, monolingual dictionaries for second-language learners, and bilingual dictionaries. Part II and III are devoted to the distinctive methodologies and concerns of the historical dictionaries and specialist dictionaries respectively, while chapters in Part IV examine specific topics such as description and prescription; the representation of pronunciation; and the practicalities of dictionary production. The book ends with a chronology of the major events in the history of lexicography. It will be a valuable resource for students, scholars, and practitioners in the field.

Gorstak ne moze sebi dopustiti, Osvojice on nju pa makar mu to bilo zadnje na svijetu Heavenly Hell-Richard Brinsley Sheridan 1935 Mafia Movies-Dana Renga 2019-07-05 The mafia has always fascinated filmmakers and television producers. Al Capone, Salvatore Giuliano, Lucky Luciano, Ciro Di Marzio, Roberto Saviano, Don Vito and Michael Corleone, and Tony Soprano are some of the historical and fictional figures that contribute to the myth of the Italian and Italian-American mafias perpetuated onscreen. This collection looks at mafia movies and television over time and across cultures, from the early classics to the Godfather trilogy and contemporary Italian films and television series. The only comprehensive collection of its type, Mafia Movies treats over fifty films and TV shows created since 1906, while introducing Italian and Italian-American mafia history and culture. The second edition includes new original essays on essential films and TV shows that have emerged since the publication of the first edition, such as Boardwalk Empire and Mob Wives, as well as a new roundtable section on Italy's "other" mafias in film and television, written as a collaborative essay by more than ten scholars. The edition also introduces a new section called "Double Takes" that elaborates on some of the most popular mafia films and TV shows (e.g. The Godfather and The Sopranos) organized around themes such as adaptation, gender and politics, urban spaces, and performance and stardom.

Beards of New York-Greg Salvatori 2015-10-29
Beards of New York is a portrait series that captures the individuality, the fashion, and the sexiness of the contemporary beard. The collection showcases the beard's many shapes and styles worn by a diverse mix of everyday New Yorkers from Wall Street traders to East Village barmen, to Broadway actors and Upper East Side doctors. Greg Salvatori transforms each man into a sexy and playful study of modern masculinity. With these stunning portraits of men, radiant against the candy pink background and hints of glitter, Greg Salvatori taps into the lumbersexual aesthetic while asking how the beard makes the man.

A Deep-water Voyage-Paul Eve Stevenson 1897
Snowblind-Don Roff 2016-05-26 Mourning his son after a tragic accident, Staff Sergeant Samuel Mulwrey must command his Army Ranger platoon during cold-weather training in the wintry wilds of Alaska. It's his last chance to pull his troops - and himself - together. After a blinding whiteout separates Mulwrey and three other Rangers from their unit, they seek refuge in what seems like a cheerful, homey chalet nestled in the savage wilderness. Except nothing is as it appears. The place possesses a dark and disturbing history. As the Rangers warm themselves, someone - or something - stalks them all with an unquenchable bloodlust, and the terror won't stop until the blinding snowstorm ends and they all die.

My Holocaust-Tova Reich 2009-10-13 Maurice and Norman Messer, father-and-son business partners, know a good product when they see it. That product is the Holocaust, and Maurice, a Holocaust survivor with an inflated personal history, and Norman, enjoying vicarious victimhood as a participant in the second-generation movement, proceed to market it enthusiastically. Not even the disappearance of Nechama, Norman's daughter and Maurice's granddaughter, into the Carmelite convent at Auschwitz, where she is transformed into a nun, Sister Consolatia of the Cross, deters them from pushing their agenda. Father and son embark on a tour of the Auschwitz-Birkenau death camp, which Maurice—now the driving force behind the most powerful Holocaust memorialization institution in America—organizes to soften up a potential major donor, and which Norman takes advantage of to embark on a surrealistic search for his daughter. At the death camp they run into assorted groups and individuals all clamoring for a piece of the Holocaust, including Buddhist New Agers on a retreat, Israeli schoolchildren on a required heritage pilgrimage, a Holocaust artifact hustler, filmmakers, and an astonishing collection of others. All hell breaks loose when Maurice's museum is taken over by a coalition of self-styled victims seeking Holocaust status, bringing together a vivid cast of all-too-human characters, from Holocaust professionals to Holocaust wannabees of every persuasion, in the fevered competition to win the grand prize of owning the Holocaust. An inspiringly courageous and shockingly original tour-de-force, My Holocaust dares to penetrate territory until now considered sacrosanct in its brilliantly provocative and darkly comic exploration of the uses and abuses of memory and the meaning of human suffering.

Le pietre di Verona-Pierpaolo Brugnoli 1997
When the Grass Was Taller-Richard Nelson Coe

1996

Inventing America-José Rabasa 1993 In Inventing America, José Rabasa presents the view that Columbus's historic act was not a discovery, and still less an encounter. Rather, he considers it the beginning of a process of inventing a New World in the sixteenth century European consciousness. The notion of America as a European invention challenges the popular conception of the New World as a natural entity to be discovered or understood, however imperfectly. This book aims to debunk complacency with the historic, geographic, and cartographic rudiments underlying our present picture of the world.

Hiding Out-Tina Alexis Allen 2018-02-20 "[Hiding Out] brims with drunkenness, sexuality and urgency...a "can't-put-down" read." — Washington Post

Actress and playwright Tina Alexis Allen's audacious memoir unravels her privileged suburban Catholic upbringing that was shaped by her formidable father—a man whose strict religious devotion and dedication to his large family hid his true nature and a life defined by deep secrets and dangerous lies. The youngest of thirteen children in a devout Catholic family, Tina Alexis Allen grew up in 1980s suburban Maryland in a house ruled by her stern father, Sir John, an imposing, British-born authoritarian who had been knighted by the Pope. Sir John supported his large family running a successful travel agency that specialized in religious tours to the Holy Land and the Vatican for pious Catholics. But his daughter, Tina, was no sweet and innocent Catholic girl. A smart-mouthed high school basketball prodigy, she harbored a painful secret: she liked girls. When Tina was eighteen her father discovered the truth about her sexuality. Instead of dragging her to the family priest and lecturing her with tearful sermons about sin and damnation, her father shocked her with his honest response. He, too, was gay. The secret they shared about their sexuality brought father and daughter closer, and the two became trusted confidants and partners in a relationship that eventually spiraled out of control. Tina and Sir John spent nights dancing in gay clubs together, experimenting with drugs, and casual sex—all while keeping the rest of their family in the dark. Outside of their wild clandestine escapades, Sir John made Tina his heir apparent at the travel agency. Drawn deeper into the business, Tina soon became suspicious of her father's frequent business trips, his multiple passports and cache of documents, and the briefcases full of cash that mysteriously appeared and quickly vanished. Digging deeper, she uncovered a disturbing facet beyond the stunning double-life of the father she thought she knew. A riveting and cinematic true tale stranger and twistier than fiction, Hiding Out is an astonishing story of self-discovery, family, secrets, and the power of the truth to set us free.

Art Is Calling for Me: I Want to Be a Prima Donna- 2018-09 "I long to be a prima donna, I long to shine upon the stage That's what I'm dying for, that's what I'm sighing for. Art is calling for me!" From Victor Herbert's "The Enchantress," comes this wickedly entertaining bit of campy humor, a solo showpiece for one or two sopranos with help from the rest of the ensemble. True to Herbert's original with the addition of choral comment interspersed throughout, this is a unique "out-of-the-box" musical experience!
